PROGRAM

“WINGS WEEKEND”

October 20 & 21, 2001

The Richmond, VA Flight Standards District Office, in conjunction with the Virginia Department of Aviation, will present a “WINGS WEEKEND” at the Shenandoah Valley Regional Airport (SHD) on October 20 and 21, 2001.

WHAT’S A WINGS WEEKEND?

A “WINGS WEEKEND” is a program in which pilots will be provided with the necessary Safety Seminars and Flight Instruction for their “WINGS” award as part of the FAA’s Pilot Proficiency Award Program. The WINGS award and a certificate will be presented to pilots at the event upon completion of the requirements.

WHAT’S REQUIRED TO PARTICIPATE?

Attend at least one FAA sanctioned Safety Seminar, and receive three hours of flight training, which will include one hour each of the following: stalls and basic aircraft mastery, instrument training, and take-offs and landings.

WHAT SEMINARS WILL BE PRESENTED?

Seminar topics will vary and be held on both days from 0900 to 1500. Proposed seminar topics are listed on the next page. All seminars are free. All pilots, student pilots, and others interested in aviation safety are encouraged to participate in the seminars.

To receive the WINGS award, a pilot is required to obtain three hours of flight training from a CFI. The flight training will be provided at no cost by volunteer Flight Instructors to participating pilots. Pilots will be required to furnish an airplane for the flight instruction portion of the training. Rental aircraft will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. All flight training will by necessity be scheduled in advance.

HOW DO I PARTICIPATE?

Register for the event, and show up at the facility! A registration form is included in this mailing. Early registration will allow us to serve you better! Volunteer CFI's will be assigned, we may have a limited number of participating instructors - so - register right away. Please be sure the registration is legible, and complete.

PROPOSED SEMINAR TOPICS

Preflighting an Aircraft
How to get a Good Weather Briefing
Medical Facts for Pilots
Takeoffs and Landings
Review of CFR 61 and 91

ACTIVITIES FOR THE NON-PILOT

A "Cockpit Companion" type program will be offered to non-pilots who attend with a flying partner. This program is designed to provide information that may help the non-pilot flying partner learn about aviation from a different perspective. Subjects such as; chart reading, radio communications, basic aerodynamics, meteorology, dealing with fear of flying, and other topics which will assist the non-pilot in enjoying flight will be covered in this program. This program may be of interest also to younger family members (teen-age & up) who are interested in aviation.
